

The world that the spirit endures, that the spirit is immortal.

81. Who is Daddy Azam?

Daddy Azam is a servant of Daudet.

82. What do you learn about the narrator, Daudet from Maurice's letter?

Daudet is a close friend of Maurice, who asked him to go and meet his grand parents behalf of him.

83. What does Maurice ask Daudet to do?

He asked him to shut up the Mill that owned him on that day to go on a short visit for him to Eyquies.

84. Who helps Daudet to locate Maurice's grandparents house?

An orphanage girl helped and showed him to locate their house.

85. What is the child in blue uniform doing when Daudet enters the house?

When he entered into the house an orphan child was reading a book aloud.

86. What items are given to the guest as a 'small repare'?

The menu comprised two strips of white egg, some dates, and a barquette, a kind of pastry.

87. How does the old couple manage to provide their guest with cherry brandy?

The old gentlemom was standing on a chair, making heroic efforts to reach a bottle of preserved brandy - cherries placed on the topmost shelf of a cupboard.

88. Whom the bottle of wine had been kept for years to?

The bottle had been undisturbed for ten years, and awaited Maurice's return.

89. When did Daudet leave the house and with whom?

It was getting dark, when grandpa and he left the house. He was a proud man that evening as he walked through the village arm in arm with the friend of Maurice.

90. Who is the 'little blue protectress' following the old man and why?

The 'little blue protectress' meant for the orphanage girl who followed the grandpa to bring him home as he was very old man. He was not able to walk without help of others. So the little girl was there to help him.